50cal, M203, Thompson, Crew IFR, PS3, Xbox 360, Xbox, XBox 360 Game, Injustice Game, and more. The company also does custom textures, models, paint schemes and animations. Animations Naravi Studios has a focus on realistic animations. The staff includes a motion-capture artist who is also a driving instructor, since a lot of movements for aeroplanes are associated with driving a car. A lot of work is involved in visual effects. Naravi Studios has used the same character model for the cockpit of a Boeing 757 for the last nine years. The company has animated 9 hours of film of a Boeing 767 landing. It also has produced animated sequences of aircraft for the movie Superman Returns, Flight Simulator X, Unreal Tournament 2004, and Crash Bandicoot. The studio was hired by Gameface to do the Boeing 767's animation in Flight Simulator X. Naravi Studios created three different animations for the Boeing 767. One of the animations was featured in the "Just Plane Awesome" show on the Gameface channel. The studio also created the animation for the HTC Boeing 757. The studio's animations have won a number of awards. This is a new one. Thank you." Another girl said, "You're a stereotype. No. No you're not." The girl who cut her, "You do know you're in a church." The boys said, "I'm sure you all are just a bunch of racist bitches." The girl who cut her said, "I'm going to report you." At that point, I got out of there. I honestly thought they were going to kill me. You know, I had never been in anything like that before._SEQ",
