I want to do a little animation on a windows forms. Is there any way I can do this without using a third party component (e.g. a winforms control toolkit)? A: Just use Graphics.DrawImage and use a Bitmap or Icon as the image. This can be done very easily. Consider using a generic event handler that just draws on the form. If you want to make it look like the dialog it is, use the CreateGraphics method. You can make a custom form by extending the Form class and override the method CreateGraphics. A: How about this tutorial Former President George W. Bush has been treated for what the administration says is a case of diverticulitis, a term commonly used for a severe inflammation of the colon. Bush, 72, has seen his recently developed memoir, "Decision Points," advance to the best-seller list, where it has remained for 11 weeks. Bush, who made clear his belief that Mitt Romney lost the presidential election in 2012 because of the president's "gaffe" about "binders full of women" during a Republican debate, 1cb139a0ed
