If a user sees that a product is incorrect or outdated, and he fills the form, we will send an email to the seller with a message of the issue. The issue itself is that the user can't subscribe to our newsletter because the code on the website says that you are already a user, and sends the email with a subscription code to the email address you provided. What I want to do is to add a button after the user has filled the form, which says that the information you provided will be used to solve the issue, and shows a link to a Facebook or Twitter advertisement (based on what the user chooses). How can I achieve this? A: If you want to advertise (on the same page) in a non-malicious way: Include a link in your page. [] Click
