According to Maxis, the new simulation offers a “more realistic” experience, “more fluid” gameplay, as well as better movement and reaction. The game engine uses more precise animation models and new Player Behaviour Engine, an entirely new series of AI, which offers a more varied and robust AI team. FIFA 20 was the fastest-selling football title of all time, more than 14 million copies sold within its first year in the market. The game introduced “Dynamic DNA,” which allowed thousands of living people to capture the movements of 22 real-life players. If you are a fan of football and FIFA series, you should take the time to try out FIFA 21, as it is not only one of the best-selling sports games of all time, but also an experience you'll never forget.

2 things that we know about FIFA 22 gameplay already:

1. PES is still loved by majority of fans
2. Revealed at the PlayStation Experience, who just started

Well, I'm fairly certain I'm going to get a lot of hate for this, but I'm going to say it anyway. I'm buying PES 2018 when it launches. No question about it. Part of the reason is that I'm moving to Europe next year, and am very happy with the idea of being able to set up a separate account for when I get there that won't transfer over my older save files. But the main reason is that I'm legitimately (albeit probably unfairly) more excited about PES 2019 than I am FIFA. I don't care that the license fee is four times higher than FIFA's, or that PES games often look like versions from years ago. I just want a consistently high-quality football experience, and PES delivers on that. For the first time in a long time, PES has made it clear that they aren't just going to be mowing down every FIFA.

They've listened and they're working to improve the game. I know for a fact that they've changed the game design since their last attempt in November 2016. What I'm not sure of is whether that was a result of their taking the feedback they got or if it just happened because they were bored and decided to mess with something they thought might be fun. (Spoiler: I'm optimistic that it's the former.) Either way, the results are there, and they're something to build on. The

FIFA is the best-selling football video game of all time. Developed by Electronic Arts Inc. and published worldwide by EA Sports, FIFA has sold over 260 million units worldwide and generated more than $1 billion in gross revenue. November 10, 2015 Today, we are very excited to announce that the unmissable title FIFA 22 has been rated by PEGI. And yes, FIFA is the same as always, and as it's been for over 25 years. You can get your hands on FIFA 22 worldwide in late 2015. What exactly is PEGI? The PEGI symbol is on products where the game content is specially marked so that it can only be played by certain age groups. On products in the EU, PEGI is a regulated quality mark indicating that the content was approved for sale by the European Commission, and is clearly identifiable on the product. What does it mean for FIFA? The rating system has been in place for over 30 years and since 2012 has been harmonised throughout the EU. This means that players from around the world can buy the same products and know they are suitable for the intended audience. In addition to the PEGI rating on FIFA 22, some of the key features of the game have received a four-star rating. FIFA 22 Exclusive Features and Innovations

Playmaker AI The Playmaker AI now builds its own playing style by dynamically adjusting and choosing tactics based on what the opposition does. It uses the five tactical elements: buildup, offensive, defensive, set-pieces and tactics. Highlight Control Highlight Control moves the player to the ball when they press the touchline. Tackle Direction Tackle Direction lets the player control the direction of the player's tackle by pressing up or down with the right analog stick. Explosion Shots Explosion Shots no longer use the run animation. Instead, the player runs towards the ball before completing a throw-in. New Skills For the first time, FIFA players will have the power to unlock new skills and rewards on the online leaderboards. New Faces, New A.I. Players can now interact with teammates and opponents in FIFA more naturally. The crowd is more diverse, there is more emotion in the atmosphere, and the best
