I am developing an android game. I am also interested to know if it is possible to restart the phone which is currently running the game, in a separate thread/service. I searched a lot on this, and also asked this question on SO. One of the answer given here. In that answer they said, the google play services are working in different thread and when they work in the main thread it disables the background data. Now that they are working in a separate thread, i don't want to work in the main thread. In my case, the service or activity are launched by an activity. So i am launching a activity by using the startActivityForResult() method. When the activity finishes the result is passed to the activity that was launched. So in this case, i don't want the activity to complete the result i want the service to start
