The stamps - created by the Tourist and Folklore Society - show images of women from the past with the dates of their birth and death. Cleveland's unique collection of more than 200 stamps is on display at Cleveland Castle. The stamps are inked, printed and bound by hand from images taken from surviving books by members of the Tourist and Folklore Society and the company was founded in 1849. The image of Milne's Well on the stamp is an image of Milne's Well on a visit to the castle as the visitor was allowed to touch the water. Visitors can also touch the stamps at Cleveland Castle. The stamps, which were on sale for 75p each in the window on the ground floor of the castle, are a limited edition and are on display until Sunday March 9. On Sunday they will be auctioned off with proceeds going to host the Six Nations matches in 2016. Liz Edwards, manager of Cleveland Castle, said: "They were a lot of fun to look at, I think the colours of the stamps were gorgeous."Is it possible to really live when your life always feels forced? I don't know about you, but my life lately has felt so 'forced'. Forced to clean, forced to sell, forced to follow the busyness of others. I have to earn a living, so I don't have time to relax, I have to sell

A: You don't have to download anything but if you want to save the stuff on a USB stick, just in case you loose the data, you can still do that. If you want to save a file to USB (on Windows), you can do it with Explorer. Right click the file you want to save, go to "send to" On the right, you will see a down-arrow. Click that arrow, select "USB drive", click OK and then you can safely remove the USB stick and plug it into another machine. If you want to be more fancy, you can do that in Explorer itself using the browser (which is a.net application you might be familiar with), if you open a new tab you can find the "Send To" menu. A: You do not need to download anything for a basic use of the software. The only things you need to do are: Create a folder for the software (D:\Edesign) Open the file ED_NAME.html from this location More details here (If you want to save the program on a pendrive, you need to: Create a new folder for the pendrive (e.g. D:\Edesign\Pendrive) Create a new file (e.g. Edesigner.exe) in that folder Copy the program EDesigner.html in that file More details about the pendrive options here (The present invention relates generally to a method and apparatus for propelling a vehicle via four wheel drive. It is known to propel a motor vehicle via drive wheels driven by an internal combustion engine. In a four wheel drive mode of operation, it is also known to propel the vehicle through two drive wheels driven by the engine and two free wheels driven by electrical motors. The drive and free wheels are selectively arranged for four wheel drive operation. U.S. Pat. No. 3,895,479 shows an arrangement of wheel drive and speed reduction drive units between the axles of
