Growing castor bean plants in pot culture. The castor bean (Ricinus communis) is an important crop and perennial oilseed that is widely grown and used for a variety of purposes, including extraction of ricin and hydrophobic plant protein for commercial food and pharmaceutical use. The present report presents a simple in vitro method of growing castor bean plants. The method uses budding on rootstock (or topstock) and a short-cycle composite of medium. Seed germinates best in moist conditions. The developmental process is initiated by making a small slit in the dry hypocotyl, and seedlings are grown on a moist gel-filled seed germination bed. Placement of seedlings in a ring with the hypocotyls facing inward and the cotyledons (first leaves) on the inner side allows the leaves to expand to their full mature size without stem curling. The method should be adaptable to any desired plant growth medium.require'spec_helper' RSpec.describe MixpanelApi::Info do subject { MixpanelApi::Info.new } it "should encode the provided object to utf-8" do subject.to_utf8.should == "Hello world! Q: CSS class to bottom of image when its greater than a width I'm trying to add a class to each of the images when its width is greater than a certain value. I'm trying to find a way where it can be added to the bottom of the image. For example if the width of the image was greater than 600px I want to add the class to the bottom of the image. The code I have at the moment adds the class to the bottom of the page, not the bottom of the image. I've tried to use jQuery and JS to get the height of the image and set the class to the bottom of the image but it doesn't work (returns null). I've tried to do it using CSS but I can't figure out how to add the class to the bottom of the image.

S$(".images").each(function() { var imageHtml = $(this).children().children().children().children().children().children().children().children(); var imageWidth = $(this).width(); var imageHeight = $(this).height(); if (imageWidth > 600) { $(this).addClass("bottom-of-image"); } }); .images { display: inline-block; float: left; width: 50%; margin: 0; padding: 0; margin-bottom: 20px; background: #ffffff; } .top-of-image { display: inline-block; float: left; width: 50%; margin: 0; padding: 0; margin-bottom: 20px; background: #00b6dd; } .bottom-of-image { display: inline-block; float: left; width: 50%; margin: 0; padding: 0; margin-bottom: 20px; background: #222222; }
