The PopMaker is the official OS X app for searching PopClip extensions. It lets you search the internet for extensions while still searching your computer for the best extension possible. It allows you to import your own icons. PopMaker can also create system-wide keybindings for right clicking with a PopMaker extension. The code will create a.plist file on the drive. You will see this file when you create a.plist on a PopMaker extension. This makes it much easier than editing a.plist yourself.
